

"A huge amount of my audience still listens to radio. That's where they get a lot of my music." – Keith Urban, GRAMMY® award-winning country music artist

Emerging artist or megastar – the thrill of hearing your song on the radio is just the same.

For nearly a century, local radio stations have been providing artists with a platform to share their music with fans, and providing listeners with the hits they love. Local radio is record labels' number-one promotional vehicle, turning unknown performers into household names. Because despite countless options, local radio is still the number one way listeners discover new music.

Thank you to the more than 180 bipartisan members of Congress supporting the Local Radio Freedom Act. Let's keep working together to keep the dreams of artists and their fans alive.
