Hurricane Harvey Relief: Quincy Media's WVVA (Bluefield, WV) and the Red Cross collecting donations

<http://www.careersatquincy.com/story/36250938/2017/08/30/hurricane-harvey-relief-wvva-and-the-red-cross-collecting-donations>

Quincy Media:

The absolute devastation for those in the path of Hurricane Harvey served as an immediate call to action for all of the Quincy Media stations. A demand that we not just cover the event, but provide tangible aid in any way humanly possible. Answering the plea for Red Cross and FEMA volunteers, we educated our local audiences on how they could put their skills and hearts directly to work in Texas. For the agencies gathering and shipping needed supplies, we guided the public. Even more importantly, we began to raise money for the key agencies providing aid on the ground.

Our NBC stations in Sioux City, IA and Rochester MN did telethons that raised over $150,000 for the Red Cross in a matter of a few hours. WREX in Rockford, IL, KWWL in Waterloo, IA, along with our stations in Peoria, IL are partnered with the Salvation Army for on-going phone-a-thons to collect money for Texas relief. We're doing the same with the United Way. Several Quincy stations are working directly with local grocers to drive Red Cross donation stations. That money continues to pour in. All of our ABC stations are aggressively promoting the network's Day of Caring. WKOW, our ABC in Madison, WI is mirroring the network's efforts with an additional all day telethon for the Red Cross.

At every turn, multiple times in every newscast, live on the street, at every promotional avail, Quincy Media is leading literally millions to give what they can, and do what they can, for our neighbors in Texas who remain so desperately in need.
