

ARTIST AND RECORD LABEL EXEC QUOTES

I forgot to thank the DJ's & radio stations who did the mega missy mixes tribute I'm grateful! I love y'all!

-- Tweet from rapper Missy Elliott following her Super Bowl XLIX appearance, February 2, 2015

“There is no room for error, so labels and radio are partners more than ever before.”

-- Charlie Walk, executive vp of Republic Records, *Billboard* roundtable with execs from radio and recording businesses, January 17, 2015

What can I say besides a HUGE thank you to country radio, @WMNashville promo and y'all fans... "Neon Light" has become my 18th #1 song!!!

-- Tweet from country music star Blake Shelton, November 10, 2014

“Thank you so much country radio for playing it. It really has a special place in my heart.”

-- Country music star Miranda Lambert accepting the Country Music Award for Single of the Year, CMA Awards, November 5, 2014

“Country radio has been so supportive of me and my career. I was honored to be the one to call and tell them about this huge honor. Congrats to all the winners.”

-- Country music star Luke Bryan on announcing the radio stations that won a 2014 CMA Award, October 14, 2014

“It was really like one of those old school moments you see in the movies. It was really exciting. I just don't think we quite understood at the time how important radio was in the U.S. in terms of new music exposure and discovery. Looking back on it now is one of those big watershed moments.”

-- South African band Kongos keyboardist and accordion player Johnny Kongos on hearing eventual *Billboard* Alternative Songs chart #1 hit “Come With Me Now” on the radio, August 6, 2014

“I heard this on the radio yesterday evening for the first time and it just...if somebody sits here and tells you, ‘Oh, it's okay to hear yourself on the radio,’” they're lying to you. It's the greatest thing on the planet. It's fantastic.”

-- Garth Brooks on launching his new single "People Loving People," *Good Morning, America*, September 4, 2014

"I can't thank radio and you all enough for the Hot 100 #1! But I can give you this video of Shake It Off outtakes."

-- Taylor Swift on her single "Shake It Off," August 27, 2014

"This is so unprecedented for us, as we've never had a song go to radio. We're just trying to relish the moment. It's been a really crazy couple of weeks. To me, it feels like it's getting so real."

"You hear the scary stories from other artists who have been through it before, but for us, it's been a cool experience. If you want to be an artist, this is what you set out to do -- play your music for people, and the radio tour is a microcosm for that. It sets up the ability to play live shows, and gives you a platform for your music to be played. It's been great for us to get out there and meet everyone at country radio, and get out there and forge relationships with them."

-- Pop-country duo Native Run's Bryan Dawley, "Native Run Talk Hearing Their Song on Radio for the First Time," *Billboard*, August 19, 2014

"When I think of the summer of 2014, I will think of lots of traveling and the milestone of all milestones -- hearing our song on the radio. It's unbelievable for us, but also for our families, too. Everyone is so excited."

-- Pop-country duo Native Run's Rachel Beauregard, "Native Run Talk Hearing Their Song on Radio for the First Time," *Billboard*, August 19, 2014

"I appreciate somebody curating the salt and pepper for me and sharing their guidance and wisdom and ultimately giving me a better experience. I think that's what radio can be and should be."

"Local conversation and local culture isn't disappearing necessarily just because we have a world that's more connected. In fact I think it allows some subcultures to blossom a bit more and for local conversations to have even more power and I think that radio can certainly play a part in that."

-- Thirty Seconds to Mars frontman Jared Leto, June 19, 2014

"I want to say thank you, thank you to radio that believed in us, that played our tracks when no one knew who we were."

-- Imagine Dragons lead singer Dan Reynolds accepting "Top Rock Album" at 2014 Billboard Music Awards, May 18, 2014

"Country radio, thank you for letting us be a part of this. You guys rock."

"Pop radio, thank you."

"Radio is still 80-plus percent of your music exposure. One thing I remind staff at least once a month in an artist development meeting when we are focusing on other mediums of exposure that are important — streaming, or press for TV, or whatever else — I try not to let everyone get in the weeds with that. Radio is still the primary form of exposing new music.

“Time and time again when studies are done, broadcast radio remains the No. 1 source for discovering new music.

“Where the rubber hits the road is still broadcast radio. If we have exposure there and we have success there with something that connects, we will see results. You don’t always see that with every other medium.”

-- BBR Music Group exec Jon Loba, February 16, 2014

“I heard the first few licks of the song and I didn’t know how it would affect me. I’m not always super emotional. When I heard the first part of the song, I just started bawling my eyes out. It was a very crazy, surreal, rewarding and full-circle moment. It was cool that my little sister was there. She had her camera so she captured the moment on film. I was just freaking out and cussing and trying not to wreck my car.”

-- Country artist Kacey Musgraves on hearing her debut single “Merry Go Round” on radio for the first time, *Radio.com*, February 3, 2014

“I want to thank country radio and also pop radio and also Hot AC and AC radio because the fact that all of those different genres of music played songs off of my album makes me not have to think about genre when I’m writing songs. It just allows me to think about writing songs.”

-- Taylor Swift accepting Country Female Artist of the Year Award at the 2013 American Music Awards, November 24, 2013

“The U.S. has the most dynamic, thriving recorded music industry in the world and we don’t have a terrestrial radio performance right. It’s easy to bash radio and say the U.S. is in the same company as North Korea [and the few other countries without a radio royalty]. But there are a lot of artists and labels that have done very well with the current system.”

-- Wilson, Sonsini, Goodrich & Rosati former partner and former VP of business and legal affairs at the RIAA Gary Greenstein, Future Of Music Coalition Summit, October 28, 2013

“We opened up all the windows and let all the fans listen to it, and we just partied. Every time I hear it, I blast it out like I’m the biggest Paramore fan in the world.”

-- Paramore frontwoman Hayley Williams on hearing “Misery Business” on the radio the first time, October 11, 2013

"You can see a direct correlation. If you looked at a terrestrial radio audience chart and at the iTunes top 10 singles chart, I would say 75 percent of it matches up."

"Republic is an amazing place to work. It's a family team. Monte Lipman and Avery provide a platform for us to do incredible things. It starts with radio, but the idea is to develop these artists full circle across radio, video, digital platforms and beyond. We make sure to expand our goals, but we always stick to the company mantra, 'We break new artists'. It is an honor to be a part of that process."

-- Republic Record Senior Vice President Radio/Video Promotion David Nathan, November 27, 2012, <http://rbr.com/recording-exec-on-promo-it-starts-with-radio/>

"The first time I ever heard my song on the radio, I thought I was dreaming, but I was wide awake. I was in Chattanooga, Tennessee. I turned, and I heard my song."

-- Usher, iHeartRadio music festival, October 1, 2012

"I was stunned. I was in the car with a friend and an old song was playing. I was like, 'I love this song!' and that song ended and my song came on next. I went, 'What?' and got real quiet and said to my friend, 'Hey, can you turn that up please?' and I went nuts."

-- Gavin DeGraw, iHeartRadio music festival, October 1, 2012

"I thought I was playing my own CD. I thought that I was maybe accidentally playing my iPod, and then I realized that I was on the radio, and that's a crazy experience. Once it's done, you text everyone you know."

-- Kat Graham, iHeartRadio music festival, October 1, 2012

"I was driving in the car with my mom the first time I heard my song on the radio. It's a pull-over-your-car, get-out-and-jump-around moment, something that you dream of when you're a little girl and you want to be an artist. And that feeling doesn't go away. I'm still excited when I hear myself on the radio."

-- Miranda Lambert, iHeartRadio music festival, October 1, 2012

"We were in Cape Cod [Massachusetts], of all places," Nick Jonas said. "We had a show at the Melody Tent, and after soundcheck, we took a few minutes to go to the beach, and on our way to the beach, we heard the song on the radio, which was pretty exciting for us."

-- Nick Jonas (Jonas Brothers), iHeartRadio music festival, October 1, 2012

"I was in Los Angeles, California, on the 405 freeway, and anybody that's watching who knows the 405, you sit still for about two hours on that freeway. So I'm stuck in traffic, my song comes on, I jump out of my car and run down the freeway knocking on people's windows. I don't remember the station, but I said, 'Turn it on, turn it on, that's me!' I wouldn't recommend that, because you could die, so I don't recommend that."

-- Ne-Yo, iHeartRadio music festival, October 1, 2012

"Ultimately, it does get back to having hit songs on radio. You have to have hits at radio."

-- Scott Siman, president of RPM Entertainment

-- Lady Antebellum band member Hillary Scott announcing February 2012 thank you show for country radio in Nashville, October 2011

"You can text, Twitter and website your ass off and it's not going to have one-tenth the impact radio has."

-- Country music artist Kix Brooks, 2010 Country Radio Seminar

"It was Rochester, New York. We had just had dinner with [the DJ] that night, and we called in and said: 'Can you please play this song? We've never heard it on the radio.' And he did, and the tears started coming."

"We had just released it a couple of weeks before, and it was definitely something we'll never forget."

--Grammy-winning country band Lady Antebellum (Charles Kelly and Hillary Scott) reflecting on hearing their song played on local radio for the first time, "Oprah," February 2010

"To the fans, thank y'all for accepting me. And most importantly, to country radio, you took a chance on a pop singer from Charleston, S.C., and God bless y'all for that."

-- Darius Rucker, 2009 CMA Award winner for 'New Artist of the Year,' November 2009

"[T]he primary function of a record label's promotion department is to secure radio airplay for its artists. ... Our partnership with radio is paramount to breaking new acts, as well as keeping superstar artists in the eyes and ears of their fans and the music buying public."

-- RCA Senior Vice President Peter Gray, as quoted in OnMilwaukee.com, August 2009

"Radio is still the leading force of determining what songs and artists break through."

-- Clive Davis, Sony Music's chief creative officer, as quoted in USA Today, June 2009

"The first nine years was one thing -- before we got on the radio, which was a miracle. It was never meant to happen. And then the second half was really a big blur of amazement."

-- Gwen Stefani, as quoted on E! Entertainment Television's "The Daily 10," May 19, 2009

"You can't take being played on the radio for granted. There are only so many spots and many great singers out there wanting one. It's a jungle out there."

-- George Strait, as quoted in Radio & Records, April 3, 2009

"It's worth remembering that U2, you know we broke in the United States through Boston and through radio stations like BCN and stuff like that. We depend on radio."

-- Bono, referring to Boston radio station WBCN, in an interview a WHDH-TV Boston news reporter, March 2009

"Let me tell you four letters that mean a whole lot to me. Four letters that have changed the course of my career. Four letters out of 26. W-Y-C-D."

-- John Rich, Big and Rich, speaking on stage during the station's "Ten Man Jam" concert, February 2009

"Thank You Radio!! 4 Grammy Awards Last Night!!!"

-- Lil Wayne in an email sent to radio stations across the country the day after he received four Grammy Awards, February 9, 2009

"It's mainly radio, actually. I'll hear a song, very often in the car, and buy the CD."

-- Paul McCartney on where he finds new music. Entertainment Weekly, February 5, 2009

"I was homeless for about a year and I went back to singing, 'cause that's what I grew up doing with my dad as a child. We made our money by bar-singing. So I was looking for a place to sing, and it was my own material. And after about a year of being homeless and doing that, a radio station played one of my songs on the air -- a bootleg. I didn't have any demos. I wasn't trying to get signed. But a record label heard it, and all the sudden it was like being Cinderella. Limousines started showing up."

-- Jewel, Grammy-nominated recording artist, NBC's 'Today,' September 2008

"Alright, let's talk about the nuts and bolts. If you win 'Nashville Star', you have to get on 200 major market radio stations. You have to."

-- John Rich, Big and Rich, 'Nashville Star,' July 2008

"I love a strong radio hit. ... That's what our job is, to have a radio hit. Without radio, we couldn't do what we do, but the job is to have a radio hit that sounds unique, and like you."

-- Jewel, Grammy-nominated recording artist, 'Nashville Star,' July 2008

"I have to thank... every DJ, every radio guy, every promotions guy, everybody who ever put up a poster for me and spread the word."

"[R]adio remains the best way to get new music into the listeners' lives."

-- Sony BMG Executive VP Butch Waugh as quoted in Radio & Records, January 11, 2008

"[R]adio is the conduit to the people, the voice of the format and the lifestyle's soundtrack."

-- Sony BMG Nashville VP of Marketing Tom Baldrice, as quoted in Radio & Records, January 11, 2008

"Obviously, radio is probably the most important thing for a new rock band coming out. If you don't get yourself on the radio, then you won't draw bodies at the clubs and you won't sell records."

-- 'Another Animal' drummer Shannon Larkin, Drum Magazine, 2008

"Country radio, thank you so much for being our mouthpiece. You know what we do means nothing if it never gets played, and no one gets to hear it."

-- 'Rascal Flatts,' Vocal Group of the Year, Country Music Awards, 2007

"I can't even believe that this is real... I want to thank country radio. I'll never forget the chance you took on me."

-- Taylor Swift, Horizon Award (for best new artist), Country Music Awards, 2007

"I have yet to see the big reaction you want to see to a hit until it goes on the radio. I'm a big, big fan of radio."

--Richard Palmese, Executive Vice President of Promotion, RCA, as quoted in Radio & Records, June 2007

"Radio has proven itself time and time again to be the biggest vehicle to expose new music."

-- Ken Lane, Senior Vice President for Promotion, Island Def Jam Music Group, 2005

"It is clearly the number one way that we're getting our music exposed. Nothing else affects retail sales the way terrestrial radio does."

--Tom Biery, Senior Vice President for Promotion, Warner Bros. Records, 2005

"That's the most important thing for a label, getting your records played."

-- Eddie Daye, recording artist, 2003

"Radio helped me a lot. That's the audience. I can't see them, but I know they're there. I can't reach out and touch them with my hand, but I know they're there."

-- B.B. King, recording artist, 2002

"If a song's not on the radio, it'll never sell."

-- Mark Wright, Senior Vice President, MCA Records, 2001

"Air play is king. They play the record, it sells. If they don't, it's dead in the water."

-- Jim Mazza, President, Dreamcatcher Entertainment, 1999

"I am so grateful to radio. Their support has truly changed my life, and I hope they know how appreciative I am for that."
